YOUR WHOLE COMPANY UNSTOPPABLE, IN FLOW WITH AGENTIC ENGINEERING.

Agentic Workflows for Business Teams (AW-BIZ)

Your engineering already hands work to agents. In one day marketing, finance, sales, HR and customer service bring that pace to their own work: everyone hands one recurring task of their own to an agent and leaves with a skill for it.

WHO IT IS FOR

Everyone outside engineering and product: marketing, finance, sales, HR, legal and customer service

WHO TRAINS IT

Felix Schlenther or his team, AI FIRST, our partner from Hamburg; Stefan Munz and Benedikt Stemmildt accountable

> "We went from 2 engineers playing with agentic coding to 20 using it daily. We created 17 skills and 9 agents available to every engineer."
>
> TOM HIBBERT, CHIEF TECHNOLOGY OFFICER, MOONFARE

WHAT YOUR TEAM TAKES AWAY

- For every person, one recurring task written down and a first skill for it
- Your team's rules for agents: what they see, which account they use, where a person approves
- A shortlist of the tasks that suit an agent, and who carries them on
- A record of the training as an AI literacy measure under Article 4 of the AI Act

DAY 1

From one recurring task to a working agent

- Your tasks first: everyone writes down the steps of one recurring task
- How agents work: live, on a task from the room
- Data and approvals: what the agent sees, which account, where a person approves
- Your task, done by the agent: hand it over and check every result
- A skill for next time: so the agent repeats it the same way
- Show and decide: which tasks stay and who carries them on

Your team works with the AI assistant it already uses: Claude, ChatGPT or Microsoft Copilot, in a desktop app on its own files and tools. We train the way of working behind it.

HOW YOUR DATA STAYS SAFE

- Until the preparation call has settled the data question, everyone practises on copies or prepared files.
- The agent asks for approval before every important step; sending, paying and publishing stay with a person.
